Youth Engagement Project Coordinator

The California School-Based Health Alliance (CSHA) is seeking a Project Coordinator for our statewide work providing support and training to school-based health centers (SBHCs) to enhance their sustainability and improve the scope and quality of their services. This position is focused both on helping lead CSHA’s internal youth development program, the Youth Board, and also on helping promote youth engagement activities throughout the field, among other projects.

CSHA is the leading voice in California for the movement to put health care where kids are—in school. We are committed to school-based health as a strategy for increasing health equity and reducing educational disparities. We are also committed to developing school-based health practices that go beyond traditional medical care and incorporate public health approaches to changing the social determinants of health. We are advancing school-based health by:

1. Advocating for public policies that enable SBHCs to become a sustainable part of the health care and education systems.
2. Expanding and improving programs and practices among SBHCs and other school health service models.
3. Raising support and awareness of SBHCs through strategic communications.

Please review our website to learn more about our work: www.schoolhealthcenters.org.

We have 10 staff members in our downtown Oakland office and one consultant in Fresno, most working remotely at present. We work closely with partners in regions across California and with our national organization in Washington, D.C. We have an inclusive and open work environment dedicated to continual learning and improvement.
